Workplace career path for Early Childhood Assistants

Consider the Child Development Practitioner:

The Child Development Practitioner apprenticeship training program is designed for those who are working or have previously worked in the field of Early Childhood Education and wish to attain a formal education.

You must apply to be an apprentice through Skilled Trades Ontario an agency of the Ministry of Labour, Immigration, Training and Skills Development to apply for this program. Visit skilledtradesontario.ca/trade-information/child-development-practitioner/ for more information.
